

MONEY DEPOSITED FOR THE DAM SITE; WORK TO RESUME

Telegrams have been received here and at Las Cruces from H. B. Holt, N. Galles and other friends of the Elephant-Butte project, who are in Washington, stating that secretary R. A. Hallinger, of the interior department, has given instructions to have the $200,000 deposited with the Socorro court for payment for the land necessary for the dam site in accordance with the award to the Victorio Land and Cattle company, also that the reclamation service has been ordered to have the work on the Elephant-Butte dam proceed at once.

This means that there will be no further delay on the big dam, and that it will be rushed to completion. The delay which was caused by the long drawn out condemnation proceedings is now at an end so far as the reclamation service is concerned, as it will be possible to pursue the work on the project while the case of the Victorio company for damages against the government is fought through the higher courts.

The secretary's order in addition to the depositing of the guarantee is that the Santa Fe railroad be given instructions to proceed with the building of the 12 miles of railroad from the main line to the dam site so that the reclamation service can proceed with the work at once.

R. F. Burges returned to El Paso Tuesday from Washington, where he had been working in the interest of the dam, and said he was confident that work would be ordered at once. The order came today.

Confirmation of the order to resume work on the dam was received Wednesday afternoon by the reclamation service in El Paso.

INSURGENTS LOSE OHIO FIGHT

Regulars and Stand-Patters
Throughout the State Win Nomination.

CANNONISM DOESN'T SEEM TO BE DEAD

Cleveland, O., May 18.—Results in Tuesday's state primary election indicate that a majority of the Republican "regulars" in congress have been re-nominated.

The Democratic delegation was re-nominated in a body with the exception of representative Turrell in the fourth district, who was not a candidate.

A result not wholly expected was the endorsement of senator Charles Dick for a return to the senate by about two-thirds of the Republicans who participated in the primaries.

His name was the only one presented for endorsement, but a brisk fight was made against him. Dick's home city, in Akron senator Dick's home city, a number of voters wrote in the name of James R. Garfield in the place of Dick.

R. F. Buckley, Jr., was nominated for congress on the Democratic ticket in the 21st district, situated within the city of Cleveland, on an issue of the continued leadership in Cleveland of Tom L. Johnson. Buckley was a Johnson man. Congressman James H. Cassidy, Republican, was re-nominated without opposition. The district is heavily Republican.

Ralph D. Cole, Republican congressman from the eighth district, was defeated for re-nomination by Frank B. Villa, who ran as an "insurgent."

In Youngstown, where an exceptionally bitter attack was made upon the tariff bill, representative James Kennedy, a "regular," seems to have won handsily over his nearest opponent, W. J. Williams, Jr., who ran as a proposed champion of the tariff as it now exists.

W. Aubrey Thomas, who has been known as a Republican stalwart, was re-nominated easily in the 19th over Warren F. Thomas, who made his campaign on the tariff.

In the larger cities the Republican nominees are "regular" to a man. Nicholas Longworth and Herman Grabel, incumbents from Cincinnati districts, won handsily. Longworth without opposition.

In the seventh district J. Warren Keifer, pronounced stand pater, was re-nominated by about 400 votes over Dr. R. M. Hughes.

INSURGENTS MAKE TAFT EXPLAIN

President Didn't Use Bad
Language About Them;
Didn't Even Think It.

TAFT MEASURES WERE ENDANGERED

Washington, D. C., May 18.—President Taft today authorized several of the administration senators to deny absolutely the stories that had been circulated the last few days that the president recently had denounced the insurgents in unmistakable terms and had used language to which these statements took offense.

Reports reached the white house that some insurgents, smarting under what they had heard had been said of them, were determined to defeat the railroad bill and others of the president's measures, regardless of what might happen to them or the party.

COMBATING EFFORTS TO GET HYDE A NEW TRIAL

Kansas City, Mo., May 18.—A sensation was sprung here today when Virgil Conkling, prosecutor in the case of Dr. B. C. Hyde, convicted and given a life term for the murder of Col. Swope, summoned the jurors to make affidavit on their conduct during the hearing. It is reported that a deputy marshal talked to the jurymen and that newspapers were left inside, which, it is said, influenced the verdict.

Conkling fears the defense will ask for a new trial for these reasons.

NOBODY WAS BURNED IN THE PHOENIX HOTEL FIRE

Phoenix, Ariz., May 18.—A search of the ruins of the Hotel Adams, which burned yesterday fails to reveal any traces of human bones and city officials now believe that there was no loss of life in the fire. It was thought for a time last night that a number of persons had been burned to death but no one has been reported missing.

These notices were sent after Gen. Irias had given notice of his intention to bombard the city should Gen. Estrada not surrender in the meantime. Gen. Estrada, it is learned, has refused to surrender.

Seven Miles Of People Scramble To See the Dead King's Face

WESTMINSTER HALL
FROM THE QUEEN'S LONDON. COURTESY OF GAZETTE PUBL. CO.
ALL RIGHTS RESERVED

Wait in Rain All Night for Last Look Upon Dead Sovereign's Face.

London, Eng., May 18.—From 6 o'clock this morning when the doors of Westminster Hall where the body of the late king Edward is lying in state, were opened to the public, a sombre and silent multitude in four deep formation filed past the bier.

At 4 o'clock this afternoon the line extended nearly seven miles, six and eight abreast, from the entrance to the hall through adjacent streets and was constantly being lengthened. Many persons, fainting from exhaustion and ambulances were busy all along the stream of human life.

The police kept the thousands moving steadily. The mourners entered at one end of the hall, the double rows passing on either side of the catafalque and emerged at the opposite side of the building.

When the doors closed last night, between 50,000 and 60,000 persons had viewed the casket while perhaps half that number were still waiting in the streets.

At 11 o'clock last night a new line began to form for today, and midnight found the waiting throng swollen by many thousands, who kept an all night vigil for the purpose of paying their tribute to the dead monarch. They stayed despite a heavy rain, the line extending for a mile or more and including men, women and children of many classes.

It was a strangely cosmopolitan crowd every land and every color being represented—the laborer in corduroys touched elbows with the frock coated West Enders. By noon today more than 100,000 had viewed the remains.

The Declaration of Independence, the burning of the fire department at St. Mary's, Okla., the Emancipation Proclamation and the long sleeve glove famine of 1906 will always be memorable episodes in American history. You know a party fair idea of a woman's disposition from the way she scrapes out a pan.

NEGROES ARE FRIGHTENED AT 'COMIC'

Gather in Churches to Pray and Buy Conjure Bags to Protect Them.

MANY FORSAKE WORK IN FIELDS

Atlanta, Ga., May 18.—Dealers in "conjur" bags in the negro sections of the city carried on a thriving business today as a result of the scheduled trip of the earth through the tail of Halley's comet tonight.

Meetings were also held in churches today, thousands of negroes refusing to return to work until the passing of the "comic."

The fact that cloudy weather throughout the south today and tonight will obscure the heavens is expected to allay the fears of the superstitious.

Profess Salvation.

Stanford, Ky., May 18.—Scores of negroes professed salvation at midnight services held in their churches last night to prepare themselves for whatever may happen when the earth passes through the tail of the comet. The fields are denuded of farm hands, the negroes fleeing to the towns.

DENVER STAYS WET BY GOODLY VOTE

Prohibitionists Swamped by Antis in Tuesday's Election.

Denver, Colo., May 18.—Denver yesterday voted "wet" by a majority that fairly stunned the anti-saloon forces, the complete returns indicating a majority of at least 15,000 against the proposition to abolish the saloons.

The result of the vote on the proposed charter amendments, including the initiative, referendum and recall is in doubt, with indications pointing to defeat.

The new charter for the water company is also defeated. Most of the Democratic candidates for aldermen and election commissioners are probably elected. Scratching was very general.

14 KILLED BY A BOILER EXPLOSION

Canton, O., May 18.—Investigation into the cause of the boiler explosion at the plant of the American Sheet and Tin Plate company yesterday afternoon in which 14 men were killed and 30 injured, began today.

Several of the injured probably will die, and examination shows that but three of a battery of seven boilers exploded, the others being merely displaced by the concussion.

MRS. SNOW, PLAINTIFF, WINS BEAUMONT OIL LAND SUIT.

Beaumont, Tex., May 18.—After running the gamut of courts to the highest tribunal, and after long litigation, the final decision was rendered this morning in the case of Snow against Hazelwood, when the United States circuit court of appeals decided entirely favoring Mrs. Annie F. Snow, the plaintiff. The suit involved oil lands worth $30,000.

HEAVY RAINS FALL OVER NEW MEXICO

Albuquerque, N. M., May 18.—Unusually heavy rains in central New Mexico last night are worth thousands of dollars to the cattlemen while the farmers' prospects are the greatest in the history of the territory.

District engineer W. M. Reed, of the reclamation service, spent Wednesday at Selden, W. P. Dent, examiner of titles in the local offices, has returned from Las Cruces.

"WAR SCARES DISHED" UP TO SELL GUNS

Lake Mohonk, N. Y., May 18.—The sixteenth annual meeting of the Lake Mohonk conference on international arbitration began its three days' session today. Diplomats, educators, jurists, and clergymen from all parts of the world were present.

The most striking feature of the address of Nicholas Murray Butler, the presiding officer of this conference, was his assertion that "somebody makes something by reason of the huge expenditure in preparation for war," and the suggestion that "some sort of ability that has exposed other forms of chicanery and graft should investigate the sincerity and disinterestedness of the lively type of patriotism which accomplished these naval and military debates the world over." He said sarcastically that war is always on the point of breaking out in two or three parts of the world when appropriations for military purposes are under consideration.

$3,000,000 Advertising Contract
Made With Four Afternoon Newspapers

JOHN WANAMAKER, THE MERCHANT PRINCE, PREFERS THE NEWSPAPERS THAT ARE PUBLISHED AT A TIME WHEN PEOPLE HAVE THE OPPORTUNITY TO READ.

John Wanamaker is the most widely known and one of the most successful merchants in the world.

He has reduced merchandising to exact science and his methods are regarded as standard in the retail world.

He is also one of the largest, if not the largest, purchasers of advertising space. For years he has made the subject of publicity a study and he is probably able to get as much value out of a dollar spent in advertising as anyone in the advertising field.

In New York at the present time, Mr. Wanamaker is running a page advertisement each day in four newspapers of that city. He has entered into a contract to run, not for one year, but for five years! In the preparation of his advertising copy he employs a staff of editors, artists, special writers, etc., large enough to equip a good-sized daily newspaper.

The New York Herald, The New York Sun and The New York Tribune being perhaps the best known of the daily papers of that city, all of them morning papers, and established when New York was little more than a village, will occur to everyone as being the mediums selected by Mr. Wanamaker.

On the contrary, he uses The Telegram, The Mail, The Post and The Brooklyn Standard Union, each and every one of them evening newspapers. In an interview with the manager of Mr. Wanamaker's advertising, he stated that he chose the evening papers because "the public has much more time to read the advertisements at night than in the morning, and, further, the evening papers tend to go into the family circle more."

That a single merchant should make a five years' contract with each of four papers to insert a page advertisement each week-day of the year for a period of five years, has created a real sensation in the advertising world, and the fact that not a single morning newspaper is included in that list has made publishers of morning papers, not only in that city, but in other cities, sit up and take notice.

Mr. Wanamaker's preference for evening newspapers as an advertising medium is based on nearly a half century of experience in advertising. His example is worthy of the attention of every merchant in the country who spends money for advertising space.—Springfield (Ill.) Evening News.
